LA SALLE UNIVERSITY

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST

PHILADELPHIA, PA 19141 • 215-951-1015 • FAX 215-951-1602

TO: Faculty and Administrators

FROM: John J. McGoldrick, F.S.C., Assistant Provost

RE: ACADEMIC CONVOCATION, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 14, 2001

If you can attend the Convocation and wish to march in the procession, please report to the Concession area on the Mezzanine level of the Hayman Center for vesting. Please report by 2:30 p.m.

The marshals for the procession, Dr. Charles Desnoyers and Dr. Marc Moreau, will assist you in forming the line of march in this order:

Instructors
Librarians and Assistant Professors
Associate Professors
Professors
Department Chairs
Administrators

We would like to have all elements of the procession ready to move by 2:55 p.m. Your cooperation in arriving and vesting promptly will be appreciated.

The reception this year will be held in the Blue and Gold Commons of the North Residence Hall complex. The entrance to the Commons is directly across Olney Avenue from the entrance to the Hayman Center parking area.

Thank you.

La Salle University's School of Nursing Receives $250,000 Grant for Speech-Language-Hearing Science Program

The Connelly Foundation has awarded The School of Nursing at La Salle University a grant of $250,000 for its Speech-Language-Hearing Science program. The grant will help with the construction and equipping of a research/teaching laboratory and a community clinic for residents with communication disorders.

"This grant will help us provide the clinical experience our students need and equipment to help them assess patients' needs. The program expands the opportunities for our students to provide service to the surrounding area, and is a good example of how we stay in touch with our neighbors," said Zane Robinson Wolf, Dean of the School of Nursing.

Speech-language pathologists were listed as one of the fastest growing occupations in a recent report by the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics. The program is directed by Barbara Amster, Ph.D. It has affiliations with area hospitals, clinics, schools, and rehabilitation facilities to offer clinical experiences for students. Recently, the program was awarded candidacy status from the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (CAA), which precedes full accreditation and allows a graduate to meet the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) Certificate of Clinical Competence (CCC) Standards. Speech-language pathologists often must have a master's and ASHA certification to work.

The master's degree is available for individuals who hold a bachelor's degree in Speech-Language Pathology or a related field. La Salle also offers a five-year (undergraduate to graduate program) for undergraduates who decide on a career in speech-language pathology. This program leads to a master's degree and mixes liberal arts and science courses with clinical courses and professional experiences.

The Connelly Foundation is a private foundation whose mission is to enhance the quality of life in the Delaware Valley. Its grants reflect its founders' directive to have concern for the issues that affect society and the world at large.

La Salle is a comprehensive, coeducational university established in 1863 by the Christian Brothers, a Roman Catholic teaching order. Today, the university educates approximately 5,600 undergraduate and graduate students in nearly 60 academic disciplines at its four campuses in Philadelphia and the surrounding counties. One of seven Christian Brother colleges and universities in America, La Salle is built on a strong tradition of quality education, service to students and overall excellence. ###

Exams are Just Around the Corner!

Dear Faculty Member:

As the Fall term progresses, we need to begin working on the Spring semester. We would like your selection of course related materials by October 26, 2001.

We have sent Course Book Information Request forms to the Department Chairperson for your use. Giving us your book information now reduces potential problems such as publisher's shipping delays, errors and out-of-stock situations. In addition, having your request before exams, allows us to pay a higher price to students when they sell their books at the end of the current term. Your prompt response also helps ensure that the materials needed by our students, will be on the shelf before classes begin next term.

Of course, we would be happy to assist you, please contact us. We are here to help you.

Sincerely,

Cathy Kelly

Greetings,

On behalf of the Teaching and Learning Center, WELCOME TO LA SALLE. Please join us for a

NEW FACULTY BROWN BAG LUNCH

And Informal Discussion on

"Things I wish someone had told me during my first year at La Salle"

Tuesday, October 9th

Lawrence Conference Room – 4th Floor, Administration Building

12:30 p.m. - 1:30 p.m.

(Sodas, cookies, fruit and conversation provided) -

a Real Brown Bag!

Come get to know your fellow new faculty (you are not alone), meet some people who have been around for a year or two, and someone who recently went through promotion and tenure. Maybe you have questions, would like to meet people from other departments, or just want to listen to some not-so-new faculty share their experiences. I hope this lunch will be one of many opportunities that you will have this year to "get connected" with the University.

If you will be able to join us, please RSVP to me (x1136 or email: mccoey@lasalle.edu).

Hope to see you on the 9th.

Calling all students! Open Meeting

La Salle University invites you to explore Travel/Study Courses for Spring Term, 2002

Tuesday, October 9, at 12:30 in the Dunleavy Room

Faculty offering these courses will be available to answer your questions.

Faculty and Staff will continue to plan trips abroad despite the tragic events of September 11th. An assessment of global security and safety will determine whether the travel component of the course will be fulfilled.

- ♦ The Cultural Connections Triplet: History 371-The Holocaust and Slavery (Wednesday Evenings) Allen/Fair
Honors 317-Literature of the Holocaust (Tuesday Evenings) Allen
Religion 371-Building Bridges to Religious Understanding (Wednesday Evenings) Vogel
All three courses will travel to Ghana; History and Honors courses will also travel to Poland; Religion course will go to Turkey during Spring Break, 2002. One of the most central challenges we face in 21st century America is the need to bridge the cultural distances that divide us. This travel study "triplet" seeks to do just that. Throughout the semester we will be exploring how our history and experiences have shaped our individual world -views, in this case as Jews and Christians, as African Americans and European Americans. While each course will focus on a different set of questions, all three courses are united by a single vision: that only by looking carefully at those histories and experiences will we be able to construct a more tolerant world. This trip abroad will be complemented with a set of smaller trips in the United States, some taken together with all three classes and some done individually. We will look carefully at the connections Philadelphia has to both Slavery and the Holocaust. [There are no prerequisites for History 371 and Religion 371. For Honors 317: must be a member of the Honors Program or have Dean's List standing]. Contact: vogel@lasalle.edu
- ♦ Pilgrimage to Spain – Religion 271 (Bro. Joseph Dougherty). Students enrolled in this course will travel to Spain and Portugal during Spring Break, 2002. Pilgrimage is a universal trait of religion, an enduring metaphor for the life of faith, and a close relative of tourism. The course considers the pilgrimage as an archetypal religious act from political, sociological, anthropological, and theological perspectives; it reviews the history of this shrine; it analyzes the place of pilgrimage generally in contemporary spirituality. Contact: dougherj@lasalle.edu
- ♦ Italy: Cradle of the Renaissance – Art 370 (Dr. Sabrina DeTurk)
- ♦ The Cultural Context of Learning - Honors 488 (Dr. Preston Feden)
Students enrolled in these two courses will travel to Italy together during Spring Break, 2002. On campus and in Italy, the Art 370 course will focus on the great monuments of Renaissance Italy while also studying the social context that allowed such a rebirth of art, literature, and philosophy. The Honors 488 students will learn how Italian culture influences its learners and its schools while also working with children in an Italian school. Students in both courses will have opportunities to visit cultural sites and schools while in Italy. [Deans' List students are eligible for honors courses, with permission of the Honors Program Director]. Contact: feden@lasalle.edu

- ♦ Irish Language and Culture – Irish 150 (Prof. John Buckley). Travel during Spring Break to Ireland and Northern Ireland. Learn conversational Irish Gaelic for one hour per week and aspects of Irish culture, like history, music, literature, and film for the other hour. The course will meet for two hours every Wednesday night in the spring. Places still available.
- ♦ The Foundations of American Education – EDC 306. (Prof. John Buckley). Travel during Spring Break to Ireland and Northern Ireland. We will study how the different education systems developed, what were the forces that shaped them, historically, sociologically, and philosophically. We will also look at what “themes and issues” currently preoccupy them. When in Ireland we will visit different kinds of schools. Taking in all levels of education, except 3rd level, and talk to the principals and some of the students. A visit to an “integrated” school in Belfast where Catholic and Protestant students attend, will take place only if the political climate of the time (Spring Break) will allow. Places still available. This is a great opportunity for a junior or sophomore who has not taken a Foundations of Education course. Contact: bucklern@earthlink.net
- ♦ Caring Theory/Caring Practice – Nursing 477/577 (Dr. Joanne Serembus and Dr. Zane Wolf). This Summer I course includes an International level conference in Boston (The International Association for Human Caring, held on May 23-24, 2002) and examines human caring and nurses’ contributions to the health and healing of the people served. It emphasizes the history, research, and aesthetics of caring from the perspectives of nursing and other disciplines with emphasis on critique of caring research, scholarly and aesthetic writing on caring, and resources available to study caring. Prerequisites are courses required for admission to the major or admission to the Graduate Program. Contact: serembus@lasalle.edu
- ♦ Germany Travel/Study – BUS 300-41 (School of Business Faculty)
Students enrolled in this course will have Friday afternoon seminars in Spring 2002 followed by a 10-day trip to Manheim, Germany, leaving Philadelphia around May 7th and returning around May 17th. This course may be used to fulfill the ECN 333 Business Core requirement or may be taken as an elective by students who have already taken ECN 333.
This course is designed to provide students with both a general introduction to the international aspects of the business disciplines and their specific applications to German business. La Salle seminars in the Spring will be followed by a visit to Germany where students will receive further instruction in international business from members of the Manheim faculty and guest speakers from German businesses and have site visits to German corporations including Eichbaum Brewery, Daimler-Chrysler, Roche and BASF. Sightseeing will include the cities/towns of Heidelberg, Rothenburg and Frankfurt and field trips to other areas of interest. Contact: mudrick@lasalle.edu
- ♦ The World of Charles Dickens: English 371 (Dr. Lehr). This course includes a trip to England during Spring Break (March 1 – 9) to sites in Chatham, Rochester, Broadstairs, and, particularly, London where Dickens lived and wrote. The course focuses on five novels of Charles Dickens that reflect his attitudes toward life in Victorian England in the mid 1800’s. It also includes visits to sites associated with some of Dickens’ contemporaries (e.g., Browning, Tennyson, and Thackeray). Prerequisite English 150, English 180, or Literature 150. Contact: lehr@lasalle.edu
- ♦ Comparative Criminal Justice Systems - CRJ 386 A (Prof. Finn Hornum). (Monday evenings). Travel study component to England is included in course and scheduled for Spring Break (March 1-10, 2002).
This course offers the student an opportunity to compare the legal systems, the police, the courts and the prison system in different countries (Britain, France, Scandinavia, Russia, China and Japan) with the American legal and criminal justice system through visits to cultural and historical sites associated with crime and justice, to law enforcement agencies, the courts and correctional institutions and agencies. The group will be housed in London with excursions arranged to sites within the city and to nearby locations. There is room for 7-8 students and there are no prerequisites. LA SALLE UNIVERSITY'S GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN PSYCHOLOGY PRESENT:

EXPOSURE TO PERVASIVE COMMUNITY VIOLENCE

Raymond P. Lorion, Ph.D.

Dr. Raymond P. Lorion earned his Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from the University of Rochester. He is the Chair of the Psychology in Education Division of the University of Pennsylvania and is an adjunct professor at the School of Hygiene and Public Health of Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Lorion is also editor of the Journal of Community Psychology. Dr. Lorion has an extensive background of research and publication in areas such as public health, wellness, and violence. His major interests include: Prevention science; Design, implementation, and evaluation of field-based methods for the early detection and intervention of risks associated with substance involvement, community violence, and other destructive behaviors for youth; and Promotion of positive development in youth.

This workshop will focus on understanding exposure to pervasive community violence as an environmental toxin, which negatively influences how people live, learn, work, and relate to each other. The workshop will begin with a review of basic concepts and past work on community violence. It will then discuss strategies for measuring exposure and evidence of its relationship to emotional, behavioral, and physiological functioning. Finally, the workshop will examine ways to reduce exposure and strategies for minimizing its negative consequences.

Date: Friday, October 12, 2001

Time: 1:15 – 4:15 pm

Location: La Salle University Philadelphia Campus
Communication Center Room #220

Registration and Coffee will be held 15 minutes prior to the start of the workshop

To register: Call 215/ 951-1767

La Salle faculty is welcome to attend this workshop free of charge, except for a $10.00 processing fee for those who want to receive CE credits.

La Salle University is approved by the American Psychological Association to offer Continuing Education for psychologists. The program provides 3 hours of credit for psychologists.
La Salle University is approved by the National Board for Certified Counselors to offer continuing education for National Certified Counselors. The University adheres to NBCC Continuing Education Guidelines. The program provides 3 CEUs for Certified Counselors.

"Owen Wister's Philadelphia Novel, Romney" by

James Butler, of the English Department

Dr. Butler recently uncovered a previously unpublished novel -- set in Philadelphia during the 1880's -- by Owen Wister, author of The Virginian and creator of the myth of the heroic cowboy. Dr. Butler will describe this process of discovery, his research on Owen Wister, and his dealings with Wister's descendants. He will also read brief passages from Romney, just published by Penn State University Press.

Tuesday, October 16, at 3:00 PM
